Handcrafted for Superior Performance

Established in 1999, Old Hickory Bat Company has become one of the top baseball bat manufacturers in the world. After starting in a one car garage, Old Hickory Bat Company has steadily grown from a handful of local players, to over 6500 square feet of manufacturing and showroom space and hundreds of players at the highest level of competition throughout the world. Old Hickory Bat Company's team consists of over 35 years of combined experience within both the wood bat manufacturing arena and on the professional playing field. Old Hickory's combined knowledge and playing experience, give us the ability to produce some of the finest custom maple and ash baseball bats in the game.

Located 20 miles north of Nashville, TN, Old Hickory Bat Company prides itself on offering the best products and the best customer service in the business. One of our main objectives is to get the exact bat that you desire into your hands. Bats ordered from Old Hickory are not cut until after we receive the order. This means that you don't have to settle for a bat that was cut 6 months to a year ago; every bat is cut and finished just the way you want it.

Every order Old Hickory receives is cut from the same wood and treated with the same care and attention that our Major League players' bats receive. Hand selected maple and ash from the Northeastern United States and Canada is the primary source of Old Hickory's wood. Only the highest graded wood is acceptable for use in an Old Hickory bat. Once a suitable billet of wood is selected, our bats are cut, hand sanded and hand finished to the exact specifications of each individual player. Our extensive sanding and finishing processes enable Old Hickory to thoroughly check for any imperfections. We also adhere to tight dimensional tolerances that ensure consistency from bat to bat and order to order. Every bat that is manufactured by Old Hickory has met all of our high quality standards before being boxed and shipped to your door.
